Freshmen Honors Programs Application: Welcome

This application allows you to apply for the University Honors Program (<http://admissions.unl.edu/discover/honors/honors-program.aspx>), the Jeffrey S. Raikes School of Computer Science & Management (<http://admissions.unl.edu/discover/honors/raikes.aspx>), and to the College of Business Administration Honors Academy (<http://admissions.unl.edu/discover/honors/cba-honors-academy.aspx>). In other words, the University Honors Program is considered university-wide and encompasses other honors programs. All students who are admitted to the Raikes School and CBA Honors Academy are also admitted to the University Honors Program. Learn more about each of the honors programs on the following website, <http://admissions.unl.edu/discover/honors.aspx>.

Selection & Application

Selection for the honors programs is based on academic record (standardized test scores, grade point average, coursework, and class rank), academic interests, and the additional information provided in the application. The greatest consideration in the decision is given to the applicant's academic record.

Information such as test scores, class rank, and GPA will be provided by the Office of Admissions to the honors programs. Please ensure that an official copy of your high school and any college transcripts, as well as test score reports have been sent to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Office of Admissions (<http://admissions.unl.edu/>).

The remaining questions on this application ask for a listing of the courses you're taking and those you plan to take during your senior year, a listing of all college equivalent courses you've taken or will take by fall, basic resume information, and one Common Application essay question. You may complete the application in a single instance or return at a later time to modify and submit the application. Before getting started, be sure to review the Honors Application Guide online at admissions.unl.edu/honors-application.

Deadlines

There are a limited number of spaces available in each program. For priority consideration, the deadline is November 15 for all programs. All applications should be completed no later than March 1. Important: The Raikes School and CBA Honors Academy may reach capacity following the November 15 application review period. It's recommended that students contact these programs for more information about program admission.
